Coaching the Entrepreneur

Group Leading Tip:
In this 3 Step Training, the steps are not linear, action steps, but rather places to come from around dealing with or coaching the entrepreneur. So for a worksheet we've just included some space for you to take notes as you discuss this topic with others.

Best to go through the 3 steps and share stories of entrepreneurs you have coached or know well. Ask if there is an entrepreneur in your group, and if they would like to be coached in front of the group. Have the entrepreneur tell you what they like and don't like while being coached.

Notes:

______________________________
______________________________
______________________________
______________________________

______________________________
______________________________
______________________________
______________________________

______________________________
______________________________
______________________________
______________________________

______________________________
______________________________
______________________________
______________________________

______________________________
______________________________
______________________________
______________________________